

Brasserie Askur

Restaurant with fine dining and wine at moderate prices

Askur Grill opened on September 2, 1966 and is therefore one of the oldest restaurants in Iceland, still in action. From the very start, Askur's goal has been to use only top quality ingredients, as well to be the first European restaurant to provide fat-content information for the meat. Various original features are also presented, such as an open kitchen with our chefs in action.

Askur was Iceland's first barbeque restaurant, offering grilled chicken, fire-roasted lamb chops and beef steak, and of course our famous cocktail sauce and coleslaw. One of the most popular choices at Askur is the juicy lunch buffet where a wide range of the best of the restaurant's cuisine can be tasted. The lunch buffet is offered from Monday to Friday with an additional soup, bread and salad bar and a special steak buffet is available every Sunday.

Askur aims to provide only the best raw-material in Iceland with an excellent service and an enjoyable atmosphere. Askur Grill is open every day of the week from 11.30-22:00
